ASSEMBLY CONVENTION.

SECOND DISTRICT.

The republican convention for nominating a member of assembly for the second district, will be held at the common council room, in this city, on Saturday afternoon, October 28th, at 2 o'clock.

S. B. SMITH, Chairman.

R. E. CARPENTER, Secretary.

S. J. M. PUTMAN, Charles N. Kiker, N. E. Bennett, Charles Noyes, Silas Ward, Committee.

Janesville, Oct. 20th, 1892.

Briefs.

Common council will meet in special session this evening.

Ray Templeton is booked for Myers' opera house on October 30th.

Neal Dow drew a full house at the opera house last evening, to hear him discuss the prohibition question.

Marshall Hogan cared for a drunken woman yesterday, and she occupied a room in the county hospital last night.

All the county offices in the court house were closed, this afternoon, on account of the funeral of the late Judge H. S. Conger.

The Rev. John McLean, of Beloit, and the Rev. Dr. Corwin, of Maunee, will address the people of Janesville at the opera house to-night on the subject of temperance.

The assembly convention for this assembly district will be held on Saturday afternoon next, and the attention of the ward committees is called to the fact that caucuses must be held before that time.

The sale of seats for the Fay Templeton performance will begin at Prentice & Evanson's to-morrow morning at 9 o'clock. The Templeton company played "The Mascotte," at Beloit last night to a very large audience.

There was a lively little fight in a saloon on East Milwaukee street at an early hour last evening. One of the participants received a cut on the side of the head from a stone. The facts will probably be brought out before the municipal court in a day or two.

The November number of The Season, one of the finest illustrated magazines devoted exclusively to the fashions, published, has been received at this office. The magazine is published by the International News company, 31 Beekman street, New York.

Officer Ed. Smith has recovered the broken watch chain taken from a man on River street on Saturday night. It was found in the alley-way between the west side engine house and Bauman's saloon. Our officers are on the look-out for the band of rascals in this city, and, though it may take a little time, they will all be gathered in or driven from the city.

Mr. John Ward, who has been the pitcher of the Providence base ball club for several seasons, and who gained many warm friends in this city during his connection with the Mutuals as pitcher, has been engaged by the Metropolitan club of New York for the season of '93, his salary being $3,000 for six months. John's friends in this city will congratulate him on his success.

The boards of registry of the several wards are in session to-day, perfecting the list of voters in this city. All voters whose name were not in the published lists of the first meeting of the board must appear before the board and see that their names are registered. The first and fourth ward boards will remain in session until 8 o'clock to-morrow evening, the other wards will close at eight o'clock this evening.

Mr. H. D. McKinney has made another important sale of Swigert stock. Having sold on Saturday last, his handsome bay mare Lady Shepard to Mr. R. J. Downs, of Chicago. Before buying the mare Mr. McKinney satisfied Mr. Downs of her ability to beat 2:40. The price is known to be liberal, but is not given for publication. Mr. McKinney also recently sold a very promising young mare, Emma Swigert, at a satisfactory price.

The Briggs Boston minstrel troupe were well patronized at Lappin's music hall last night, and in return they kept the audience in the best of spirits throughout the evening. It was the best entertainment of the kind given in this city for many a day. All went away well pleased with the performance. The singing of the electric quartette was the best ever heard in this city, and drew forth great applause, as did many other of the specialties of the troupe. Success to them.

A couple of very ludicrous mistakes were made last night by parties who attended the amusement halls in this city. One staunch church deacon started out from his home to hear Neal Dow speak on prohibition, and by some means found himself seated in a fifty-cent parquette chair in Lappin's music hall. He was an attentive listener to the grand overture of the minstrels, and at its conclusion he quietly put on his hat and departed, concluding that he did not belong to that kind of prohibition party. At the opera house another and an entirely different scene transpired. An enthusiastic admirer of good minstrelsy found his way into the balcony of the house, and waited patiently for the orchestra to tune up. But when Elder Lawrence appeared before the footlights, and in his solemn tones introduced the speaker, the misled auditor exclaimed to a person next to him "that this was the funniest opening of a minstrel show he ever saw." He took his hat and left.

The Weather.

The thermometer at 7 o'clock this morning registered 35 degrees above zero, and at 1 p. m. at 61 degrees above.

One year ago to-day the register stood for the same hours 43 and 52 degrees above.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21, a. m.—The following are the indications for to-day:

THE HANOVER INQUEST.

The Finding of the Coroner's Jury in the Spencer Turner Murder Case.

Charles A. Stuart Arrested Charged with Committing the Crime.

The inquest held at Hanover was concluded before Justice Brown, at five o'clock last evening. The following facts were brought out by the testimony of young Stuart's father:

A. C. Stuart being sworn, testified: I live in Plymouth; I am the father of Charlie, and husband of Emma; I know Spencer Turner, and have seen his body; on Saturday part of the afternoon I was pitching potatoes; no one at home except family; Charley and Spencer Turner came to the house between 2 and 3 o'clock; Charley came from Albany; he and Spencer drove into the yard; the horse was put into the stable by Spencer; they went together towards the house; Spencer took the horse out; my wife and I forbid them; they went east from there; were gone about two hours; they drove up to the gate; Charley came into the house; he struck my hand and broke a saucer; he said you will go out; he took out his knuckles and hit me a little; he took hold of me and said he would pull me out; that I had got to see Spencer; he struck the upper panel of the door and split it, and said that was the way he would serve me. I got up and took the children and went around by the hen coop; he said I had got to go down and see Spencer; he then went off and rode up and down; I went and sorted potatoes; I took the children and went behind the stone stable; my wife got into the buggy; Charley caught the horse by the bit; Turner caught the wheel; I was afraid of both of them; when I came home I saw Dell Turner and Charley; Charley struck me and said I had got to go back to Spencer's; I went into my own house after dark; pretty soon heard Charley and Turner coming, swearing, they were crazy drunk; I was afraid of them, and took the children and went to my brothers to go to bed; I went to bed; in three quarters of an hour I heard a noise; when I got to the house after the fire Turner was insensible; Charley said he did not hear anything about it; I saw the pump handle the next morning about 5 o'clock; the first I saw of the pump handle was at the sewing machine; I do not remember seeing it the night before; I showed it to Phillip Gundell, and then laid it down on the floor; it had been laying about the yard; I saw it near the wood house; I did not drink with them except once; I tasted of the cider; I would not drink with Charley; I talked with Spencer the next day; I asked him between 10 and 11 in the morning if he had any recollection how it happened; he did not tell me that he did not know anything after Charley struck him; the pump handle had no iron on it.

Dr. Henry Palmer, who, with Dr. Johnson, of Oxford, made the post mortem examination, testified in substance, as follows:—

We found the whole anterior portion of the body from the chin to the knees burned so that it resembled a piece of sole-leather, about one half of the surface of left arm, the left side of the face, and the nose were in a similar condition; there was a wound on the left side of the head about three quarters of an inch above the opening into the ear, made in a transverse direction, obliquely downward; this wound was about two inches in extent; the internal tissues of the ear and cartilage were out entirely; through, also the tissues in front of the ear were cut down to the bone; the zygomatic arch was separated from its connection with the skull above the ear, and the skull was fractured, making an opening about one-third of an inch in length; the internal table of the skull being shivered up in three different directions. Inside of the skull and at this point, there was a clot of blood of about one-quarter of an ounce. There was also at the base of the skull, and a little to the left of the center, extensive bruises; the muscles having been severed with their connection with the skull, and from each other, so that there was a clot of blood of an ounce or more in this locality. No further marks of violence were observable. My opinion is that the man came to his death from burning; but the wounds he sustained were received previous to death, and was not necessarily fatal, but might have proved so. The blow upon the back of the head must have been with a moderately sharp instrument coming in contact with the head with great force. The injury to the back of the head might have been produced by a blunt instrument, like a club. The injury to the back of the head could not have been produced by an ordinary fall, as they were too extensive and too low down to have resulted from an injury produced in that manner. The cut upon the side of the head might have been made by a strong, short knife driven against the head with great force, or any instrument similar in form.

Aside from the facts stated in last evening's Gazette, the above is all the material evidence produced at the inquest, and the jury returned a verdict, in accordance with the above facts.

Charles A. Stuart was brought back to the city, and lodged in the jail. This morning he was taken before the municipal court, and a warrant was read charging him with the crime of committing the murder of Spencer Turner, in the town of Plymouth, on October 21st. Mr. A. C. Bates and J. W. Bates will defend the prisoner, and J. W. Sale will conduct the prosecution. There is said to be plenty of evidence against the accused, and the defense will have to work hard to prove his innocence. Both parties have borne a very bad reputation in the neighborhood where they lived, and there was but one opinion in Hanover yesterday, and that was against the prisoner.

The preliminary examination may produce other facts.

THE LAST RITES.

The funeral services of the late Judge Conger—A Large Attendance—The Action of the Rock County Bar.

The funeral services of the late Judge H. S. Conger took place at the family residence, in the First ward at two o'clock this afternoon. There was a very large attendance of the citizen of Janesville and neighbors of the deceased, beside a great number from other cities. There were many members of the bar present, including those from Beloit, Monroe, Madison, Watertown, Jefferson, Whitewater, and other places. The members of the bar, together with the bearers, assembled at the residence of A. A. Jackson a few minutes previous to the funeral hour, and thence marched in a body to the saddened home of the deceased, the bearers taking the lead, then following the judges of the supreme court of the state, all of whom were present, and then the bar association of Rock county, including attorneys from other places.

The bearers were the Hon. S. J. Todd, of Beloit; ex-Congressman I. C. Sloan, of Madison; William Pitt Lyon, associate justice of the supreme court, Madison; Judge B. Duwiddie of Monroe, Judge-elect J. R. Bennett, Mr. J. D. Rexford of Janesville. The services were conducted by the Rev. C. M. Follen, of Christ (Episcopal) church; and the touching song service was rendered by Miss Mattie Dearborn, Mrs. C. G. Conrad, Mr. W. H. Bladen, and Mr. G. K. Colling, who rendered "Lead Thou me on;" "No rest my God to Thee;" and "Thy will be done." Surrounding the casket were many contributions of flowers, which tenderly and fittingly expressed the sympathy and sorrow of neighbors and friends. When the solemn services were brought to a close and the last sad look had been taken of the dead, all that was mortal of Harmon S. Conger was slowly borne to beautiful Oak Hill cemetery, followed by one of the largest processions ever seen in this city.

Thus has been laid to rest another prominent and deeply respected citizen of Janesville. He has gone out from the walks of life to the calm serenity of death and the dear ones he leaves behind have the sympathy of the whole community.

ACTION OF THE ROCK COUNTY BAR.

The bar association of Rock county, of which A. A. Jackson, Esq., is president, and Mr. A. W. Baldwin is secretary, held a meeting yesterday to appoint a committee consisting of Judge-elect John R. Bennett, S. J. Todd, Esq., and B. B. Eldredge, Esq., to draw resolutions respecting the death of the Hon. H. S. Conger. The committee reported the following which were unanimously adopted:

WHEREAS, the Hon. Harmon S. Conger has been removed by Divine Providence, from the scenes of his earthly labors and usefulness, therefore

Resolved, That in his death the bar of Rock county has lost one of the ablest, most industrious and honorable of its members; the state of Wisconsin one of its most useful and eminent citizens; and the people of the Twelfth judicial circuit a prize, who, in his entire judicial career of over twelve years, has been so just, so full of equity, so noble, notable and incorrupt in his high office, "that envy itself could not accuse or malice vitiate."

Resolved, That out of great respect to his memory we will attend his funeral in a body, and wear the usual badge of mourning.

That a committee be appointed consisting of Messrs. I. C. Sloan, B. B. Eldredge and S. J. Todd, to prepare a memorial address to be presented to the circuit court for Rock county at the next term, with a request that it may be placed upon the records of the court.

Resolved, That we tender to the family and friends of the deceased our kindest and most heartfelt sympathy, in the hour of their great affliction and unexampled sorrow; fully conscious that we can do nothing to lessen the anguish caused by the heavy blow that has fallen upon them; and that we can only tenderly commiserate them to look alone to Him who has said, "Blessed are they that mourn for they shall be comforted."

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be engrossed and signed by the president and secretary of this association, and presented to the family of the deceased; and that a copy be furnished the press for publication.

Municipal Court.

The municipal court is now full of business, and it will be some days before the calendar is entirely cleared.

Yesterday the following cases were up and disposed of:

State vs. Michael Ryan, tried by jury for highway robbery. The jury disagreed. Charles Pierson appeared for the state and T. J. Emmens for the defense.

The state vs. Joseph Lloyd, charged with carrying concealed weapons; fined $5 and costs; committed in default of payment for five days.

State vs. Michael Hady—drunk. Fined $1 and costs, amounting to $4.70. Paid.

State vs. August Yager—drunk and helpless. Fined $1 and costs—$4.70. Paid.

This forenoon the case of the State vs. Charles M. Thompson was adjourned; that the court could attend the funeral of Judge Conger.

Charles A. Stuart was brought into court and listened to the charge of murder read against him. He is charged with wilfully, feloniously, and of his malice and aforethought, kill and murder Spencer Turner, in the town of Plymouth on Oct. 21st. The appearance of the accused was different this morning than at the coroner's inquest in Hanover yesterday. At the inquest he seemed as unconcerned as though he was a stranger to the whole scene, and was removed. To-day, after talking with his attorney, he completely broke down, hid his face and wept for some time. Further action relating to the preliminary examination will be had in this court on Thursday morning.

Mr. A. C. and J. W. Bates will conduct the defense, and J. W. Sale will appear for the state.

A new jury was drawn in the Ryan case, and after passing on some civil matters the court adjourned to attend the funeral of Judge Conger.

Annou? Are you a dyspeptic? Have you Indigestion? Does your food trouble you? Does sleep fail to refresh you? Is your appetite and energy gone? Common Council.

A regular meeting of the common council was to have been held last evening, but when the meeting hour, eight o'clock, arrived, only Aldermen Cox, Fitzgibbon, Fife, Potter and Robinson answered to their names. President Robinson dropped the gavel, and declared the council adjourned for want of a quorum. Mayor Orcutt put in an appearance before the members retired from the room, and announced a special session for this evening, as a large amount of important business has accumulated, that must be attended to; such as fixing the polling places of the approaching general election; providing for raising five thousand dollars to settle the railroad law suit, etc., etc.
